The 2014 Sunriver Anglers Picnic at the Fall River Hatchery was attended by over 90 Anglers, friends, and a number of enthusiastic dogs. Dave and Sheila Schmerber headed up the picnic and did a great job. This was their fourth year running the event and they will be turning over the event to a new team in 2015. Thank you, Dave and Sheila, for four great years!

Phil Fischer and Dave manned the grill and the tri-tip was perfect. Ann Juttelstad prepared the Sunriver Anglers' secret beans and Melodee Munckton served potato salad. Sheila prepared and served the salads and bread. Bob and Jerry served ice cream.

We want to thank all of the members and volunteers and, most especially, the spouses who also "volunteered." Without your help the event would not be possible.

Dave and Phil preparing tri-tips. Dave is a master of outdoor cooking and his tri-tip is a special treat.

Josh Willis of Crosswater Club and Sunriver Resort thanking the Sunriver Anglers for their past support of the Sunriver Marathon for a Cause and inviting volunteers for the next run, August 30-31, 2014. The Anglers provide more volunteers for this event than any other group.

Speaking of volunteers, the Upper Deschutes River Coalition is working on a river clean-up. See details in the Call for Volunteers section on page 13. And we can always use new members to continue our tradition of helping the environment and outdoor community, so don't forget to invite your friends to join the Anglers. More information in Member-Get-A-Member on page 19.

Upcoming events include the September 10 outing to Hosmer Lake hosted by Mal Murphy. More details in the Recreation and Outings section on page 6.

And not to be missed is our October 16 dinner meeting at the Crosswater Club featuring photographer Pat Windsor and a trout dinner. Read all about the program and how to register in the Club Meetings and Events section on page 9.

Thanks again to all who helped and attended the annual picnic, as well as those who contribute to the success of our other events and volunteer activities.

Sincerely,

Co-Presidents,

Bob Hickman and Jerry Hubbard

Note of Appreciation

Dear Dave and Sheila and all the picnic volunteers,

David and I want you to know how much we appreciate your efforts each year putting on the Anglers picnic. It is an event we always look forward to attending. In addition to the breathtaking setting and terrific food (as always, the tri-tip was outstanding!), we always meet new and interesting people. This year was no exception and we just wanted to thank you for all the work you put into making this a special evening.

Sincerely,

Lee Haroun and David Dietz

Hosmer Lake Outing

Mal Murphy will lead an outing to Hosmer Lake on Wednesday, September 10. Lunch will be provided, for the traditional bargain price of $5, if at least 10 people sign up.

Hosmer has been fishing well all summer for the usual Atlantic salmon, as well as rainbows and cutthroat recently stocked by ODFW. Some large brook trout are also available, but are a little more of a challenge.

Gas-powered motors are prohibited on Hosmer, so plan on fishing from a pontoon boat, float tube, kayak, or similar watercraft. We will be meeting at the Country Store at 8:00AM on the 10th. Alternatively, plan on going directly to the lake and meeting the group there. Note that if you want something stronger than soft drinks, you'll need to bring it yourself.

Please let Mal Murphy know, at mrmurphy@chamberscable.com, by Monday, September 8, if you plan on attending.

 If you would like to lead an outing, please contact Phil Fischer or Bob Hickman. We will work with leaders to make it an easy project and not take up a lot of your time. The leaders would like to have co-leaders to reduce the workload.

Club Meetings and Events

Sunriver Anglers Board of Director meetings, first Thursday of the month, 8 am to 9:30 am. Location varies.

NOTE: Date of the October board meeting TBD.

Sunriver Angler Educational Meetings, third Thursday of the month, Sunriver SHARC, 6:45 to 8 pm. Members and public invited. (No meetings in July and August.)

September 18 Sunriver Angler Educational Meeting at Sunriver SHARC

"Fall and Winter Fishing in Central Oregon" by The Hook Fly Shop

Beer tasting by the Sunriver Brewing Company starting at 6 pm for $5.00. (Bob and Jerry will be in Turkey in September so have a beer for us!)

Our September educational meeting will feature Bryon Salaz, a licensed guide from the Hook Fly Shop in the Sunriver Village. Bryon presented an interesting program at the June Anglers meeting about effective techniques in local lakes. This time he will speak about fall and winter fishing for trout on local rivers like the Fall and Crooked and for steelhead on Oregon coastal rivers.

Bryon has been a licensed guide since 2008 and especially enjoys fishing for steelhead during the fall and winter. His presentation is sure to be filled with valuable information about how and where to hook these strong and elusive fish. It might require a little travel and being out in some inclement weather, but having a big steelhead on the end of your line should make all incidental hardships worthwhile.

The September meeting will also include a beer tasting, courtesy of Sunriver Brewing. For a five-dollar contribution, members and guests can taste several Sunriver brews prior to the main presentation. In addition to fishing information, this meeting will help you broaden your experience with different styles of beer.

Members and guests (both male and female) are welcome to attend this informative and good tasting event. The beer tasting will begin at 6 p.m. and the regular meeting will begin at 7 p.m. The beer should lend some extra flavor to the fish stories normally told prior to the meeting.

Sept. 20-21 Fly Fishing Festival hosted by The Hook Fly Shop, The Village at Sunriver. The Sunriver Anglers will have an educational table. See the Calls for Volunteers section on page 13.

- October 16 "Photography - Fly Fishing Images" by Patrick T. Windsor. Dinner meeting at the Crosswater Club. We will have a no host bar, trout dinner and a great presentation by fishing guide turned photographer, Pat Windsor. See his work at the Sunriver Artist's Cooperative (Gallery). Bring your significant other for this great photography event. Seating limited to 66 guests. Cost is $26 each ($52 per couple). Sign-up deadline is October 10. To register e-mail Jerry Hubbard jhubbard@chamberscable.com
- Nov. 20 "Report on Chub removal on East and Diamond Lakes", Jennifer Luke, Oregon Dept. of Fish & Wildlife at 6:45 at the SHARC.

- Jan. 2015 - Topic TBD. Beer tasting by the Sunriver Brewing Company starts at 6 pm.

Past Meetings and Events

Highlights of the September 4, 2014 Board Meeting

Present: Jerry Hubbard, Bob Hickman, Gary Gehlert, Jack McDonnell, Jim Adams, Michael Moore

Absent: Dave Schmerber, Dan Arnold, Bruce Cockrell, Phil Fischer

The meeting was called to order by President Jerry at 8:05 a.m.

Treasurer's Report: Jack McDonnell presented at balance of $16,902.61 as of 9/1/2014. This is a good sum for this time of year.

Hosmer Lake Outing: Sept. 10th. We need one more person to sign up in order to have a hamburger lunch. Contact Mal Murphy.

Picnic: Good weather, good food, and a good time. 80+ attended

Board Organization: Fundraising was discussed. Are we and others overwhelming local merchants? Are we trying to do too much fund raising at the Christmas Dinner?

Why do members join: Recreation, conservation, and education are the three major reasons members give for choosing to belong. All three require some funds. The Board needs to recruit members that show a willingness to lead some of our major activities.

Officers: Jack McDonnell and Gary Gehlert have agreed to return as Treasurer and Secretary. We need a President and a President Elect for next year.

Bruce Cockrell, Phil Fischer, and Michael Moore return as Board Members next year.

Jim Adams and Michael Moore agreed to serve as the nominating committee. Gary Gehlert and Jack McDonnell agreed to contact some members to see if they would be willing to serve. We need to be especially interested in people who would be willing to chair some of our major events.

This year's fly fishing seminar will be hosted by COF at a site to be determined.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:00a.m. Next meeting TBA.

Respectfully submitted,

Gary Gehlert, Secretary

Hello All Tyers,

The Umpqua Valley Fly Fishing Club in Roseburg would like to invite you to be a guest tyer at our 6th Annual Fall Festival, on September 13, 2014 at the Glide Community Center on the North Umpqua Highway. Many of you have participated in the past; we appreciate your support, and want to continue the tradition. There is always room for new faces and ideas, we hope those of you who have not been able come or who did not know about our festival will be able to join us for a couple of days. Our festival is for the tyers, a smaller more informal atmosphere will give you the opportunity to relax and visit with friends.

A definite highlight of the festival is the Friday Night Pot Luck-BBQ for the tyers/significant others, volunteers and vendors at Elsie Marchando's just down the road from the Community Center. Social hour starts at 5pm, dinner at 6- BBQ cooked to order this year. Dan Smaha, our fireside musician will be in Nebraska, but negotiations are in the works for a replacement.

The Community Center has added lighting along the walls, and I will reconfigure the table arrangement to accommodate more tiers and make sure that you have easy access to a power outlet. Saturday, doors will be open at 7am for Coffee, Breakfast Burritos and for you to get your stations set up. Advertised time is 9am-4pm but we did have some early birds last year. Morning sessions will run until 11:30ish, an hour and a half for lunch (including pie) and a guest speaker, with afternoon sessions from 1-4:00 pm. We plan on workshops in addition to the tying and casting.

This event is open to the public, turn-out varies, but this is an opportunity to introduce folks to the art of tying, to encourage the beginner tyer in a relaxed atmosphere and help the more experienced tyers learn new techniques. You can take a turn on the casting pond or abbreviated casting course, on your own or with a team. In addition to hosting a day for the tyers we are using this as an opportunity to raise funds for member and public education, service projects like tying and casting clinics for Vets and youth groups. Throughout the day there will be raffle items and several silent auction items. Last year we had about 10 vendors- Fishing rods, flies, vintage equipment, art, jewelry, wood carvings, and other handmade items.

Elsie has room for 10 self-contained RV's on her property, If you are interested in staying there contact:

Chuck Scott at chucks@canby.com (c) 503-318-7278 (h) 503-266-2538 or

Elise at elsie.marchando@yahoo.com 541-496-3979

Warren and I are 9 miles from Glide, on Cavitt Creek and have room for 2 trailers. For information on additional lodging in the area give me a call or e-mail and I'll send details.

If you know of others who may be interested, send me their contact information and I'll add them to my mailing list. Please respond with your time preference and if you will be attending the Potluck BBQ. I know plans can change, we are very flexible even to the last minute, but this will give me a general idea on how many to plan for.

Thanks so much for your interest,

Calls for Volunteers

Fly Fishing Festival hosted by The Hook Fly Shop The Village at Sunriver

This event takes place on September 20 and 21. The Anglers need volunteers both days for the club's educational table. Please contact Michael Moore at (541) 285-1011 if you can help. Volunteers will receive Sunriver Brew Pub gift cards.

Also, The Hook would like help setting up the event. Contact John or Fred at 541-593-2358.

River Cleanup - SOLVE September 27

The Upper Deschutes River Coalition has volunteers cleaning up trash from Wickiup Dam to Harper Bridge. We are looking for Sunriver Anglers to clean up the river from Harper Bridge to Benham Falls, including the Circle 7 river access point. You can float the river any time and just let Carl Jansen (carj@searchna.com) know how many pounds of trash you collected.

Oregon Lake Watch

The Oregon Lake Watch is housed at PSU. They train volunteers to monitor lakes for quality and invasive species. Maybe some Anglers would want to become active in monitoring our lakes. Their web site is <http://www.pdx.edu/oregon-lake-watch/>.

Rescue Stranded Fish

The Bend Casting Club is looking for volunteers to rescue fish stranded in pools near Lava Island Falls that result from water levels lowered when the Oregon Water Resources Department drops Deschutes River water flows after the end of the irrigation season. Gabe Parr, founder of the club, is hoping to have 40 to 60 volunteers, if needed this year.

This story appeared in the Bulletin and stated that volunteers can sign up online. However, your editor did not see a web address or phone number in the article. Investigating online, I found the following: bendcastingclub.com. There is a contact link by which you can communicate with the club.

Future Events

➤ Winter Seminar

February 21 & 22, 2015

Two-day seminar with Craig Mathews of the Blue Ribbon Fly Shop in West Yellowstone. More details to come in the October e-newsletter.

- The International Fly Fishers Federation will host its 50th annual meeting in Bend, August 11 to 15, 2015.
- Homestead Exchange Program for the International Federation of Fly Fishers 50th Anniversary meeting to be held August 11 to 15, 2015 in Bend

The International Federation of Fly Fishers' (IFFF) 50th Anniversary meeting is looking for members of the Sunriver Anglers who would be interested in participating in the IFFF's Homestead Exchange Program. The IFFF meeting will be held in Bend from August 11 to 15, 2015 at The Riverhouse.

The Homestead Exchange program will involve hosting an IFFF member from a foreign country during the week of the IFFF's meeting, probably from August 10 to 16.

In exchange, the host Sunriver Anglers member would be able to stay as a guest in the foreign visitor's home for a week the following year. Participation in the program would also include taking the foreign guest fishing at a local stream or lake during the week and providing transportation from the host's house to the IFFF meeting.

Presently, the IFFF is expecting about 18 people from foreign countries including Japan, England, Norway and Australia to come to Bend for the meeting.

It would be a great chance to host a fellow angler, meet some interesting people, improve international (fishing) relations and get a chance to travel to a foreign country to fish. Volunteers should contact me (Marv) at mpyosh@chamberscable.com or 541-593-5461. They can also contact, my friend Kuni Masuda at the following email address or phone number: klmasuda@yahoo.com 360-573-3310 (landline) or 408-406-8830 (mobile)

Kuni has also contacted the Central Oregon Flyfishers about the exchange program and is working with Eric Steele.

The FFF meeting organizers would also be happy to have Sunriver Anglers volunteers help at the meeting if anyone wants provide any assistance.

Thanks, Marv

Purple Peril

By: Phil Fischer

This morning was a cool, crisp 30 degrees in Sunriver, with the distinct feel of fall in the air. I think fall is my favorite time of the year, as the days get shorter and the fishing gets better. After a short walk with our golden retriever, I came back into the house to a nice hot cup of coffee and sat down at my computer to see what was happening in the world. The first site I checked was the steelhead counts over Sherars Falls on the Deschutes River. I've been hearing reports of steelhead being caught near the mouth of the Deschutes for a few weeks now. Each year there is a significant and predictable rise in the count from early September through mid-October at Sherars Falls. The Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife page listing fish counts confirmed for me that fish are moving up through the Deschutes system. It won't be long now before I rig up the eight weight and take that drive north on Highway 97 in the wee hours of the morning!

For this month's Sunriver Angler Fly of the Month, I chose a variation on a classic steelhead fly, the Purple Peril. This fly dates back to the 1930's and is originally attributed to Ken McLeod from Washington. The pattern has been around for a long time and has withstood the discerning test from many steelhead fishermen, and many steelhead. But I chose this pattern for a different reason. It holds a special place in my heart as the fly that caught my very first steelhead on the swing. She was a beautiful hen of about 8 pounds and took the fly with a sharp pull that made me understand “the tug is the drug” mantra of hardcore steelhead fishermen. I had caught lots of steelhead fishing nymphs under an indicator, but had never managed to catch the fish of a thousand casts on the swing. On one of my trips to the Deschutes a few years ago, a good friend gave me a piece of advice. He told me, “Phil, if you’re not fishing purple on the Deschutes, you’re not fishing.” So with that guidance, I rigged my rod with the only purple steelhead fly in my box, the Purple Peril. On one of my favorite runs on the Deschutes below Warm Springs, I cast repeatedly, and took a step downstream at the conclusion of each swing of the fly. Right about the sweet spot of the run, after my umpteenth cast, I suddenly felt that tug. I released the fish and immediately clipped the Purple Peril fly off my leader, to be placed in my Fly Hall of Fame, accompanying other memorable patterns from days spent on the water fly fishing.

If you haven’t checked and rechecked your steelhead gear for the run this fall, now is the time!

Pattern Recipe:

Hook: Tiemco 7899 Size 4-8
Thread: Danville’s Red 3/0 Flat Waxed
Tail: Purple Hackle Fibers
Body: Medium Purple Chenille
Ribbing: Medium Silver Oval Tinsel
Hackle: Whiting Purple Spey Hackle
Throat: Light Purple Krystal Flash
Wing: Red Squirrel Tail

Tying Instructions:

1. Tie on the thread at the mid-point of the hook. Strip a sparse bunch of fibers off a hackle feather for the tail. The feathers near the throat of the neck generally have the longest barbs and offer stiff characteristics for the tail. Tie in the fibers to extend beyond the bend of the hook. I like to wind several wraps of thread underneath the tail to tilt it upward to match the cant of the wing.
2. Strip a short section of the chenille to expose the center threads and tie on the hook back to the tail set position. Stripping the fibers out of the chenille helps avoid bulk on the fly. Similarly, strip the oval tinsel to expose the core and tie in back to the tail set. Wind the chenille forward in tight wraps to the wing set position and tie off. Wind even wraps of tinsel forward over the chenille to form the ribbing on the fly. Tie off and trim excess.
3. Clip about 4-5 Krystal Flash fibers for the throat. Fold the fibers over the tying thread, effectively doubling them over the thread, and gently slide them up the thread to the underside of the hook and tie in place to form the throat of the fly. Trim to the approximate length of the hook.

4. Prepare the hackle by stripping the fluff off the base of the feather. I like to choose a feather with a slight amount of web and barbs that will extend approximately the length of the wing. The Whiting Spey hackle barbs are longer and are wavy in the water in a way that make this fly so enticing. Tie the hackle stem wet fly style (Shiny side forward and dull side back) on the hook at the front of the chenille and wind forward with 3-4 wraps. Tie off and clip the excess. Gently stroke the hackle fibers apart on top of the fly to leave room for the wing. As you split the fibers, pull down and back, and wind a few wraps of thread over the hackle. The finished hackle should splay backwards on the hook and have an empty wedge where the wing will lay.
5. Prepare a sparse bunch of Red Squirrel tail fibers for the wing. Clean the hair carefully to eliminate short fibers and any guard hair. Place in a hair stacker tool to even up the tips. Remove from the hair stacker and tie in at the wing-set position on the hook, with the tips extending to the curve of the hook. Wind over the hair with a number of wraps to hold the material firmly in place. Clip the excess hair at a 45 degree angle and wind additional wraps to fully cover the butts of the hair and form a nice neat tapered head. Whip finish and glue using a clear nail polish to fully coat the head of this fly and give it a finished appearance.

Oregon Spotted Frog to be Protected under the Endangered Species Act

Oregon and Washington populations will be listed as threatened

Today the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced its decision to extend protection to the Oregon spotted frog (Rana pretiosa) as a threatened species under the Endangered Species Act.

The species will be protected throughout its range, which extends from southwestern British Columbia through the Puget/Willamette Valley, and in the Cascades Range from south-central Washington to the Klamath Basin in Oregon. Oregon spotted frogs may be extinct in California and the Willamette Valley of Oregon.

“This unique and highly aquatic frog was once common in the Pacific Northwest and its decline signals degradation in the health of natural areas that provide for people as well as fish and wildlife,” said Tom McDowell, the Service’s Washington Fish and Wildlife Office Acting Supervisor. “Our ongoing work with partners to conserve and restore Oregon spotted frog habitat means improvements to our land and water that will benefit many other species and provide for a healthy environment for future generations.”

The Oregon spotted frog has disappeared from up to 90 percent of its range, mostly due to loss and degradation of wetland habitat. Changes to the hydrology and introduced nonnative species also have impacted this frog by reducing its available habitat.

The final rule designating critical habitat for the Oregon spotted frog is expected this fall. 2

Membership

Member-Get-A-Member

Every time you recruit a new member, you help strengthen the Sunriver Anglers. A vital and growing membership means greater recognition of the work the Anglers do, improved educational and networking opportunities for members, and the advancement of our mission and services. And, referring members has additional benefits for you and the Sunriver Anglers!

Recruiting is Easy!

Recruiting a member is easy—when you connect with fellow anglers at meetings, online, or while fishing, simply tell them how you benefit from your membership in the Sunriver Anglers and suggest that they visit www.sunriveranglers.org to learn more about the value of membership.

If they decide to join, ask them to put your name on the membership application (available on our website) so you get the credit. We keep track of your recruitment activity for you. It's that simple.

Your Reward? A Sunriver Brew Pub $10 gift card!

Thank You Sunriver Brewing Company for your support of the Sunriver Anglers!
